NOTES TO NATIVE GUIDES

1. You will be given a Morris Ale bag. In it you will find a First Aid Kit, white envelope with phone numbers you might need and a large yellow envelope, specific to your tour, with white envelopes inside. Find the white envelope marked with your tour name and Native Guide. This contains:

- a list of teams on your tour
- a schedule that includes addresses
- maps
- a sheet of interesting factoids
- a copy of all pertinent permissions

Please keep all of this with you at all times on the tour, in case you need any of it.

The other white envelopes inside the yellow one are copies of the team lists, schedules, maps and factoids. These can be passed out to people who are driving separately or squires who want control.

2. The bus driver will be given his own copy of the schedules and maps and a sign to post in the window by Kathleen.

3. Bus should have tour name posted in window where all can see.

4. Bus should contain a cooler with gallons of water.

5. Always make sure that you talk to the bus driver before leaving the bus and you both know when and where you will meet again.

6. If at any time the dancers decide to walk instead of drive, please go and inform where and when you will meet him next.

7. Squires are responsible for determining if all their members are present. You ask the squires if they are ready, then inform the bus driver when he can drive on.

8. One squire is to be put in charge of organizing the dancing, unless you want to do it. That squire determines which order the teams dance in, what mass dances they all know, when the mass dances will be done, and who will announce.

You are in charge of getting these people there on time. Good luck, you will need it.
