

Midwest Morris Ale

WELCOME!!!

It's finally here!
What follows on this side of the page is a comprisal of all of the many, many scribbles and joted-down reminders that have'nt been categorized elsewhere in the registration information.

- * Lost and Found: turn in items to security persons or at the registration desk.
- * Security People: are the folks wearing the RED ale t-shirts.
- * Parking: Please park only in marked parking areas (if confused, ask Security personnel). Do not park on campground roads, on massed dance field, or near cabins. Leave roads free for emergency vehicles.
- * Dinner Bell: Yes, there is a Real dinner bell. It will be rung for dinner, and to signal the start of Sat. morning Massed Dance, and Tour departures. (Who knows? We may even wake you up with it!)
- * Emergency Horn: There is also an emergency siren(not to be confused with the dinner bell) on the site. Obviously, we will only use it it the direst of circumstances.
- * Fire Extinguishers: There's one or more in every building.
- * First Aid Kits: The map of the site (posted in the mess hall) will show the locations. Or ask Security.
- * First Aid Meeting: There will be a brief meeting of those folks who volunteered their medical services, at 9:00 a.m. Sat., in the Galley.
- * Maps: Maps will not be necessary for Sat tours, as we will have busses. Maps for Sun. tours will be given to the squires and forefolks at their meeting. A map for the Sun. night banquet & dance will be posted in the Galley, and we will try to get some copies made to hand out, but we ain't promising nuttin'.

Well, the strain is begining to show and Steve has threatened to throw me in the lake if I don't calm down and enjoy this Ale!!!
So join me, and ENJOY!!!!!!

Capers!
