Hello again. We have more details now about the first Madison Ale. This letter includes a schedule of events, a registration deadline and more information on costs, and food. For those of you who haven't answered our first mailing (which requested a rather hasty response); you are welcome to come!

Schedule of events:

June 5 - Friday evening: We expect teams to arrive at Token Creek Co. Park (North of Madison) beginning late afternoon or early evening. A pavillion and camping areas are already rented. At about 8pm we would like to have a practice for mass dancing. Sleep well....

June 6 - Saturday: We will have a mass dance at the campground and demonstration dancing by individual teams in the morning. Late in the morning the tours to surrounding towns will leave (campground security will be provided). We are presently planning 3 guided tours with at least 2 sides/tour. The tour stops will have advance publicity to guarantee a crowd. The stops already planned include Spring Green, Mineral Point and Wollersheim Winery. At 5pm we will all assemble in a Madison park for a pre-publicized mass dance (individual teams can do their second demonstration dance here). Afterwards we will drive back to the campground, rest up and have a potluck dinner. (We can provide charcoal and grills). In the evening there will be a Contra-Dance (free - bring instruments) that will go until whenever....

June 7 - Sunday morning: We may have a couple impromptu tours, but we expect most of you will need the better part of the day to drive home.

Money matters:

The registration fee will be $12.00 per person. Our minimum expenses are the camping area and pavillion we have rented, advertisements (for the tours and Madison Mass Dance), and mailing costs. *With any money we collect over this we will provide some hospitality in the form of food and (perhaps) beer. The hat will be passed at all the tour stops. Proceeds will be put into a central bag and divided up among all the teams Saturday night. Our experience has been that Wisconsinites are fairly generous.

Food:

Since we are uncertain at the moment how much money we will collect over the minimum costs we are recommending that you plan to bring your own food and, of course, keep in mind that Saturday night potluck. After registrations are in we will let you know what we can do.

Registration:

Please send us the registration fees* by ^{May 5}~~April 22~~ and the list of who will be coming. If some of you can't be sure by then please let us know soon.

*checks payable to Madison Morris Ale

That's all for now. If you have any more questions send a letter and I'll try to answer quickly. Hope you can come.

Yours sincerely,

Mark Fulton
